WATER TESTS CAUSE FURORE

Publication Of Story Of Polluted Water Along Lake Beaches Cause Of Town Council Consuming Considerable Time Discussing The Matter — Gas Company Granted Permission To Raise Rates — Assessment Motion Is Invalid.

Contending that published reports of pollution of Lake Ontario water along certain beaches in the immediate Grimsby vicinity were "unfair and should never have been published", Town Council at Friday night's session lasting till midnight, passed the following resolutions:

"That the Council demand a daily pollution check of the water in Lake Ontario bordering on this municipality and that publicity be given regarding the future readings to the same extent as the unfavourable and uncalled for publicity issued during the current week."

Herman Terry, inspector of the St. Catharines - Lincoln County Health Unit, who had taken the water tests which resulted in warnings against bathing in the area from Grimsby waterworks east to and including Nelles siderside beach, told council he had taken the tests as part of his regular duties. From Nelles beach east, including Grimsby Beach, the water had been found perfectly safe with no sign of pollution, he said.

Mr. Terry told Council that the Health Unit did not actually prohibit bathing in areas where water was found to be polluted but erected warnings on public beaches which read, "Polluted water, unfit for bathing." He said, "This might have an adverse effect on a municipality but it is a duty I have to perform."

Replying to criticism of the report having been made public, Mr. Terry said, "A reporter asked straight out what the beaches were like. We have to give the information whether it hurts us or the people concerned. If someone wants to enlarge upon it we cannot be held responsible."

Mr. Terry definitely declined to offer any possible cause of the pollution in the area where his tests had shown the water to be in class D. He agreed to Council's request that he make immediate tests of certain areas within the town confines, where water enters the lake, in an effort to establish cause of the pollution.

Council agreed to a request from the Grimsby Natural Gas Company approving an increase in local rates for natural gas to a flat rate of $1.05 per 1,000 cubic feet with a discount of five cents per thousand.

MORE PUBLIC SCHOOL ROOM BADLY NEEDED

One New Teacher Hired And One More Room Provided For Public School—Question Of New Building Must Be Taken Up In Near Future — New Teacher For High School Staff.

The July meeting of the Board of Education consisted chiefly of routine matters. Motions were passed that Miss Joyce Mogg, of Grimsby, be appointed to the public school staff, duties to commence September 1, at a salary of $1,700 plus cost of living bonus of $150 as per motion, and that Robert Calhoun be appointed to the high school staff at a salary of $2,100 plus the cost of living bonus.

E. J. Muir, the secretary, said that he had received the deeds for the land recently purchased for an agricultural plot. Total cost of the 38 acres situated at the rear of the high school grounds, was roughly $450. This includes all expenses in the purchase proceedings.

Accounts totalling $3,235.06 were passed for payment. A. V. Catton reported on repair work done and to be done in the high school.

In discussing the matter of the

Carman D. Millyard, is a "Son of The Manse," his father being a minister in the United Church. He was born in St. Thomas and raised and educated in Western Ontario. He graduated from the Ontario College of Pharmacy in 1926. For five and one-half years, both before and after graduation, he worked for the Liggett's drug firm in Sarnia, London, St. Thomas, Hamilton and Toronto, coming to Grimsby in May of 1928. Always interested in sports he has been a "live wire" behind many athletic endeavours in the Fruit Belt, particularly with High School sports. He was secretary-treasurer of the old G.A.A.A. which operated baseball and hockey teams in the district for some years. He is a past president of the Grimsby Merchants Association and the Chamber of Commerce, which before the second war sponsored the big Blossom Time Festivals. During the war the Cigarette Fund Committee, under his chairmanship, did a remarkable job in raising funds and shipping overseas to Grimsby servicemen millions of "fags." He is an active member (Steward) of Trimmings United church. He is the President of Grimsby Lions Club for 1942-43 and under his guidance the Club is bound to be a successful organization. FRUIT GROWERS WERE ON NEEDLES AND PINS

Possibility Of Railway Strike Had Distinct In A Gloom—Shippers Made Preparations For Storage.

Here in the fruit belt the possibility of a rail strike has over the past few days caused considerable alarm, not only to the growers but also to shippers. Never though has the calling of a railway strike been taken too seriously by shippers, who point out that with a light crop existing, and the fact that sweet and sour cherries now being picked could, if need be, be moved by truck. This plus the fact that at least two shippers had planned on placing their growers fruit in cold storage, should a strike of apparent length be called.

Some reports had been circulated, hinting that some growers were being cautious, and were picking Montmorency cherries before they were actually mature. It is more likely that, if growers are picking sour cherries early, it was in order to receive the present high price of a dollar and a quarter a six quart, and not so much the possibility of not having an outlet for their product, should a strike curtail rail travel.

All shippers continued to receive the growers fruit on Wednesday even though the deadline for the dispute had been set for six o'clock Thursday morning. It is true, however, that some shippers were not expressing small orders to lesser towns in the Province.

The fruit train made its daily trek from Toronto and awaited orders from the chief dispatcher, while standing in a siding at St. Catharines. Shortly after three

CEMENT WORK CONTRACT LET

Hospital Board Award Job For Foundation And Concrete Work To Ontario Construction Co., at $15,200—Work Will Be Started At Once And Should Be Completed By September First.

The Hospital Board Meeting on Saturday last awarded the contract for foundations and cement work to the Ontario Construction Co. of St. Catharines. This Company has the sewerage disposal plant contract in Grimsby, and with their equipment in this area they are able to undertake completion of the job at an early date.

The total amount of the contract is $15,200.00 and the terms presented were considered the most attractive among the number of tenders submitted.

It is understood that work will be started at once and cement work up to the first floor completed by September 1st. The balance of the time table anticipates the walls up by December 15th, and under cover before cold weather. With some luck it is hoped that the Hospital may be ready for use by early Spring.

Under the new Federal Health plan it is stated that the Dominion Government will match the Provincial grant of $1,000.00 per bed, which has enabled the Board to consider a full program of 32 beds for the present, although strong pressure was advanced by Medical centres to provide for an additional 30 beds within the next few years.

In answer to the above request the Chairman pointed out that even with these grants, more money will have to be raised to complete the program in hand and the future will have to take care of itself. It is not a case of lack of foresight but the wherewithal to do.

West Lincoln Branch, Canadian Legion Picnic for children of all veterans and their parents, July 17th, at Port Dalhousie. Meet at LePage and Stuart Garage, leave 1.15 p.m. See advertisement and news item.

DEAN OF MUNICIPAL OFFICIALS PASSES AWAY ON FRIDAY LAST

William Mitchell Had Served The People Of Grimsby And North Grimsby For Over Half A Century As Reeve And Councillor—Built Grimsby's First Waterworks System And First Public School On Livingston Avenue—Came To Grimsby In 1886—Had Been Prominent In Mercantile And Fruit Growing Circles.

In October of 1886 a gangling, legged youth, dressed in blue denim came down the old spile carried wooden sidewalk of Palmer's Hill.

He walked down Main Street and applied for a job in Palmer's store. The late E. J. Palmer hired him. From that day on he proved to be an asset to Grimsby and North Grimsby. He worked, he fought, he built Grimsby and North Grimsby, more than any other man in the history of the district and he succeeded.

His name was William Mitchell, whose demise on Friday morning last was a sorrowing shock to all who knew him in the whole County of Lincoln for the past half century or more. He was the Dean of municipal officials in Lincoln and he earned that right by his untiring services to the people for over half a century.

Born on the old Mitchell farm on Green's Road Saltfleet township, on January 12th, 1866, as a young lad of twenty years he decided to enter mercantile life and he chose Grimsby to make his start and he never left the town or township of his adoption. He had faith in this district and he worked and built to make it what it is today.

In 1901 he was first elected to the Village of Grimsby council under the late Jas. A. Hewitt as Reeve. In 1902 he was returned to office with the late Solomon Wismer as Reeve. In 1903 he did not contest office but the big fight over the building of a waterworks system and a new public school was brewing. In November of that year the late Wellington Van Dyke was unseated as a member of council for selling some water pipe to the corporation. An election was held on December 15th, last meeting of the year, and Wm. Mitchell elected as councillor.

At the January elections in 1904, and the fight was over waterworks and schools, he was elected Reeve of the village and he held that office continuously throughout 1905 -06-07-08-09-10 and 11. Eight years as Reeve. In 1910 he was Warden of Lincoln County, the last Grimsby Reeve to be Warden of the County.

During his time of office the waterworks system was constructed; the east public school was built and the first cement sidewalks in Grimsby were laid. Even

A GREAT WORK IS UNDER WAY

Red Cross Swimming Classes Are Attracting Kids By The Hundreds—Six Qualified Instructors Working Daily Under Miss Ruth Powell — District Organizations Backing Idea—Famous Swimmer Will Come To Grimsby.

(By GORDON MacGREGOR)

How often do we see the tragic news item in the daily paper, reporting the drowning of a young girl or boy?

The answer is day after day throughout the summer months.

Granted that many swimming fatalities occur under circumstances where no amount of swimming ability or knowledge of water safety would have saved a life, still countless young people lose their lives due to the fact that they are not competent swimmers, and lacking in knowledge of what perils the water holds for the ignorant.

The Red Cross Society, prominent in the field of aiding victims of disaster, flood, fire and those victimized by the ravages of war, are aware of the terrific death rate due to drowning, and for some years have been trying with considerable success to combat this taking of young lives through drowning.

In a pamphlet issued by the Red Cross Society, and entitled "Learn To Swim," the following aims are given as to how they are hoping to reduce the toll of deaths through swimming accidents:

The Red Cross is teaching Swimming and Water Safety as a measure (1) to reduce the toll of deaths from drowning throughout Canada and (2) to promote a healthful form of exercise and physical development. Not so much interested in swimming as a com-

E. D. SMITH EMPLOYEES HOLD A FINE PICNIC

Over 350 Of Staff And Families Have An Enjoyable Outing At Port Dalhousie Park.

Warm sunny skies, accompanied by a refreshing breeze that kept the day from being oppressive all helped 300 and twenty-five employees and their families enjoy to the brim the annual picnic of E. D. Smith and Sons, which this year was held at the popular Lakeside Park at Port Dalhousie, on Tuesday of this week.

The entire personnel of the factory, farm and greenhouse and office took the day off to enjoy again the generosity of this fine and long established firm. The day was marked to an extent due to the unavoidable absence of Brigadier Armand A. Smith, who is recovering from a recent illness. His two sons, Major Llewellyn Smith and Capt. Alastair Smith filled the gap.

BEAUTY AND UTILITY GO HAND IN HAND

The not too glamorous term "down at the water works" does terraced gardens here by any stretch of the imagination apply to the pumping house station and surrounding ts of the town and in Grimsby. Here where safe water is started on its journey to resident placid waters of township, an efficient staff take a great deal of pride not only in modern placid waters in the scenic splendour of the little point of land that juts into the and artistic rose cov- Lake Ontario. Long rows of perennials interspersed with evergreen this spot actually a eral arbors, and backed by the rhythmic beat of the huge pumpmuzzed backs fish from show spot of the town. FACTS & FANCIES

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

IN THE MIDST OF LIFE WE ARE IN DEATH

My Mother quoted me that sentence on Friday morning when I very hesitantly told her of the death of a lifelong friend William Mitchell.

It is a true quotation. It exists every minute of the 24 hours and no one knew it better than William Mitchell, for throughout his long career of good for his people he was called many a night from his bed to help some person, somehow. He had lived through that quotation a million times.

"Old Bill" Mitchell was my second father. He was the second father to a lot of men in this district who were once kids. Like all strong men he could cry. He cried the day I gave him the information that one of "His Kids" had passed away.

"Bill" Mitchell was a man who fought for his people and his convictions, and the records fail to prove where his convictions were ever very far wrong. Possibly so at the immediate time, but his long range vision proved in the end that he was right. Fortunately for this Town and Township.

No man ever fought for the development of any Town, Township or district and all its people more than "Battling Bill" Mitchell, a sobriquet that he earned early in life for his battles at County Council.

A man who through all his municipal, mercantile and private life never had but one thought, his people. In return the people gave him all they could give him. His municipal record proves that.

"Bill" Mitchell had no use for the lagard or the man or woman that would not work. But he had plenty of heart for the man or woman that was in an unfortunate position. And the ones that he helped along the pathway of life total to thousands.

Grimsby, North Grimsby, the County of Lincoln have suffered a severe loss, but we can all live in the knowledge that "Bill" Mitchell worked for us, built for us, lived with us, and we are the better for it.

No grander man than "Old Bill" Mitchell ever lived in the world.

SMALL BEGINNINGS

Most of the heads of Canadian businesses have reached that position through long years of hard work, years which had their beginnings in shop and factory, oftentimes as apprentices. Many of them had to leave school to earn a few extra dollars for their families.

Napier Moore, writing in The Financial Post, tells of a conversation he had recently with C. A. G. Matthews, president of a leading Canadian advertising agency.

"Recalling his own boyhood Mr. Matthews dug out the indenture he signed in 1905 when he became apprenticed to H. P. Moore, then proprietor of the Acton Free Press.

"Under the agreement, beautifully handwritten by the employer, young Charles promised faithful, obedient and willing service to those in authority over him. He promised to be at the office during summer months before the 7 a.m. bell, and in the colder weather to be there at 6:30 to have steam up and the office warm by 7. He was to work every Wednesday night, when the paper went to press, and any other night when necessary. He solemnly swore not to use tobacco in any form or intoxicating liquors, either in or out of the office. He was to act the part of a gentleman wherever he might be. He undertook to exercise all possible care to preserve from damage all type, machinery, paper, or other materials, to pick up all type, rules, leads, etc., he might find on the floor; keep the office, desks, counter, floors, windows and walls clean and tidy; keep the presses, engine and boiler room clean.

"In return he was to be taught the Art of Printing and be paid $1.50 per week the first year, the wage to be increased by $1 per week each year during the apprenticeship of four years.

"Both parties carried out the agreement to the letter."

COMPARED TO OTHER PARTS OF WORLD, WE ARE LUCKY

It's only human nature to complain, but maybe we Canadians complain more than we should.

That doesn't mean that everything is perfect in this particular part of Canada, or in any other part. Day after day we read about rising prices, restrictions on some imports that used to come from the United States, shortages of housing, high income taxation.

But if we compare our problems in Canada with those in many other parts of the world, they appear pretty insignificant.

Take the case of people living in the United Kingdom. They put up with almost seven years of wartime restrictions far heavier than those imposed on Canadians. They expected that, when peace came, things would be different.

Instead, there is a mild inflation that has boosted prices more than they have gone up in Canada; import restrictions are stricter than during the war and there have been few relaxations in other lines; the housing shortage is acute, because literally millions of homes were destroyed or damaged between 1939 and 1945; and income tax rates are far above Canadian levels.

Almost as many foods are rationed in the United Kingdom today as were rationed during the war. In some cases, the ration allocation has been reduced. There is less variety in the grocery stores than during the peak period of submarine warfare. You can't even buy a chocolate bar without giving up ration coupons. Clothing also is rationed. And many everyday commodities—the things everyone in Canada can buy when he wants them—just aren't to be had. They are being shipped abroad to earn foreign currency to keep the country out of the red.

The other day we were talking to a Canadian just returned after more than three years in London. He travelled around the United Kingdom and several European countries. He enjoyed his stay abroad; but he's glad to get back.

"Boy, the longer you stay away from Canada, the happier you are to get home!" he said.

It's something we stay-at-home Canadians might think about.

FREEDOM VERSUS COMMUNISM

"Communists adopt the tactics of parliamentary government. But their purpose is to seduce the liberals, mislead the conservatives and confuse everyone. They do not want reform for others. They want power for themselves.

"Communist techniques have been the political tools of tyrants from time immemorial: murder and terror. We (the democratic peoples) refuse to accept fraud and deceit as standards of public conduct. We reject murder and terror as political weapons.

"We have a system which, though far from perfect, is strong with idealism. It gives elbow room for men of all races and all beliefs. It is vital and dynamic. And it works. We have the means of shaping the world in our pattern. If we do, freedom will be assured for all men."—From a speech by United States Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas.

PROFIT AND LOSS

The system under which we do business in this country is often called the "profit system," when in fact it is a "profit-and-loss system." Figures compiled in Ottawa reveal that 545 Canadian businesses failed during 1947—almost double the number that failed in 1946. These businesses ranged all the way from the small retailer to the manufacturing plant.

Business enterprise is not a rosy path. It is a tough grind and competition is keen, but from the very keenness of the competition emerges the best in goods and services.

At a time when our system is frequently under attack on the assumption that it is solely a "profit system," it is well to face the facts and confront the left wing economists with the truth—namely that free competition results in profit and loss.

MACHINE AGE

When Richard Arkwright invented his cotton spinning machine somewhere around 1760, it was predicted that workers would suffer heavily because the machines would replace hand work.

Undoubtedly some dislocation did result from the change, for all changes, whether good or bad, cause some inconvenience. At that time in England there were approximately 7,900 persons engaged in the production of textiles. Twenty-seven years later a full parliamentary inquiry was held on the textile industry. It disclosed the fact that Arkwright's machine, far from robbing the worker of his job, had increased the number of workers employed in the industry from 7,900 to 320,000, or a little better than 4,400 per cent.

Arkwright's spinning machine, which was cursed when it first came into use, laid the foundation for the industrial revolution which made Britain the greatest textile producing nation in the world.

THE ADVERTISING BUSINESS

The following editorial is from the Monthly Letter of the Royal Bank and is particularly good presentation of this branch of the weekly business.

"People don't make a beaten path to the mousetrap maker's door unless they know he has made a better mouse trap and has a stock of sale at a price they can pay.

That is what advertising business is all about. Mousetraps and pig iron, automobiles and breakfast foods are useless if people remain in ignorance of their existence and unaware of how they may be used. Advertising serves the man who produces, by enabling him to dispose of his goods, and the man who consumes, by telling him what is available to add to his satisfaction in life.

The question is sometimes asked—and not only by persons with queer economic ideas—"why advertise?" The answer can be given by drawing three circles: a big one, a smaller one inside it, and a smaller inside that. The little circle indicates the number of prospects that can be met personally by the sales force, the next larger shows the wider group that can be reached by a well-built mailing list, while the outer circle shows the extent to which prospects can be canvassed by advertising in its various forms of publication and display.

One of the first positive rules is that advertising is an investment, not a speculation. Gambles in advertising, followed by disappointment and retrenchment, are wasteful. They upset the economic equilibrium. They give business that air of starts and stops so well summed up in the terse telegram of the conductor of the often derailed train: "Off again, on again, gone again Finnegan."

Another rule is that advertising is fruitless if the advertiser does not offer something which will genuinely serve some human want.

How is advertising useful to the consumer? Well, it keeps him informed. Whether the advertisement be one of the mammoth billboards, a catalogue, a full page newspaper spread, or one of the tiny items in the miles of classified ads, it should be designed and written to tell people about something they may want to buy, not about something the advertiser wants to sell."

White's Grocery has a new white and green sign.

The Post Office is getting a new coat of paint both inside and outside.

The stairway and police offices in the fire hall have been redecorated with aluminum paint. Durham Bros. had the contract.

That is going to be a pretty fancy coal office that Willie Hewson is constructing. At least Main Street is going to have plenty of light.

The man who had more to do with making Main Street what it is today, than any other man, went Home to His Maker last Friday morning. William Mitchell.

St. Catharines city police are now working on a straight eight hour shift. Like Police Commissioner "Jimmy" Braid "I still maintain that Grimsby needs a third cop."

"Kewpie" Hoffman, he of the Canadian Wood Products Co., claims that his son is the finest ever born in the world. "Kewpie's" dad had the same idea when he was born.

Two lady drivers got entangled with their cars in front of the Bank of Commerce on Thursday morning last. A wisecracker came along and remarked "Both been drinking."

Main Streeters have been stretching their necks the past few days, incidentally shivering, watching those painters working on the roof and the tower of the Post Office. They take a lot of chances.

Eddie Marlow the crack figure filbert at Norm Tod's Livingston avenue processing plant gives this columnist the information that on Dominion Day a large Union Jack was flying from the masthead of the flag pole atop the factory. Thanks, Eddie, and Norm, too.

THENADAYS—1890

Said the 1890 spider to the eighteen-ninety fly, "Won't you step into my parlor? It's a sight to thrill your eye! Everything is newly furnished in the best 'gay nineties' style, so just make yourself at home, dear, and we'll browse around a while. See this charming horseshair sofa! Note particularly the way they have made the netting cover, with its trimming of crochet. Glimpse these red plush chairs with tassels! Have you ever seen before drapes that reach clear from the ceiling to the Brussels carpet floor? Hanging near the Estey organ is the new style chandelier with its double row of crystals. And this table over here has a top of polished marble. Underneath these domes of glass are some wax and feather flowers. See this vase of painted brass full of flags and molting cattails. Hey, don't miss the stereoscope! Note the smart three-cornered whatnot trimmed with plush and gilded rope. Have you read 'A Young Girl's Wooing' by the author E. P. Roe? Lookit, here's the family album! Let's glance through it ere you go." "You look hungry, Mr. Spider," said the fly, as she took wing. "Fare thee well—I must be going, for I've now seen everything!"

NOWADAYS—1948

A contemporary spider had a home-inspection date with a fly who was a member of the Class of '48. "Modern homes are so exclusive," said the spider, with a grin. "that we'll have to get an eye-ful from the outside, looking in. Nowadays a room is furnished so the color scheme will be complementary to the family and its personality. These folks have a 'modern' daughter—one of those decided blondes; with the living room in blue tones, you should see how she responds! Blue, and more blue, does things for her not achieved by red or green—why, she's even planned her marriage to a tall, ultra Marine! See that moderne abstract painting! It's entitled, 'Where, Or, Where?' Looks like blue mud and spaghetti—but it complements blonde hair!" Said the fly, "You're so aesthetic! Have your talents been misplaced? You reflect so much refinement, so much culture, such good taste. But in spite of your politeness, I foresee an early spring. Toodle-oo, I must be going—for I've now seen everything!"

WILL YOU BE MISSED

It takes a lot of folks to run a world as big as this; And while we wish that some were gone, a lot of them we'd miss. We'd miss the bird who has a smile and always likes to show it; We'd miss the man who likes his friends and lets the whole world know it. We'd miss the friend who always had the time to say "Hello," And the chap who's always in the game and first to say "Let's go." And if we'd miss that kind of men, well, wouldn't it be true That folks would miss us when we're gone if we were that way too?

It is useful for people to make plans for their own success and achievement, and it helps a town to plan for its own development.

Progressive plans in a community frequently cost money, but they are excellent advertising and they indicate that a town is going ahead.

HER MAJESTY KEEPS PROMISE MADE BEFORE THE WAR

Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth kept a promise she made before the war as she officially opened the Queen Elizabeth hospital at Gateshead, Eng. She is shown here making friends with one of the little patients, who do seem at all awed by royalty.

GAY NINETIES TOUCH

By PRUNELLA WOOD

Although the charming parasol of dotted white organdie is definitely Turn-of-the-Century stuff, it's the blouse's Gay Ninety mood to which we direct your fashion thoughts. It is made of pedigreed white synthetic yarn fabric, and is a lovely topper with suit skirt or one of the dressy, swirling costume skirts. Being white rayon, it will remain white through repeated cleanings, keeping its pristine look if pressed carefully with a warm iron.

The quaint yoke is made of lace ruffles, which are used also to detail the split cuffs on the push-up, full sleeves.

TOILET SUGGESTIONS

It isn't always the work you do that makes you tired—it's the way that you do it.

Good posture in sitting, standing, bending and lifting can lighten many jobs around the home and office. Bad posture, with the resulting unnecessary strain on muscles wrongly used, can make a simple task a pain in the neck and back.

The best way to prove the value of good body balance in action is to try a number of "do" and "don't" stances. For instance, lift a fairly heavy object from the floor by stooping over. Now try it again the right way by bending the knees and keeping the upper part of the body straight. In the latter way there is no awkward strain on the back muscles.

When ironing or washing dishes, always stand erect, with the weight evenly divided on both feet. When working at a desk, sit way back in the chair, so that the lower back is supported, keep feet straight on the floor and lean forward from the hips, rather than by sagging through the middle. Driving a car will be less fatiguing if the seat is adjusted so that the driver can sit comfortably with support for his back.

The grace and well-being resulting from good posture habits cannot be over-emphasized. Remember the rules: head high and chin in, shoulders back and shoulder blades flat, chest up and forward, abdomen drawn up and in lower back flattened, hips tilted down in back, knees straight but not stiff, and feet parallel, with weight evenly balanced. Adopt this pose naturally, not in a stiff wooden-soldier fashion.

In walking, keep the feet parallel and straight together, and throw more weight on the ball of the foot than on the heel.

LOVELY LACE DRESS

For many centuries thenimble fingers of the women of France have been making exquisite lace, Alencon, Chantilly, beautiful rose point, laces of heirloom richness. Our designers, once again are using real French lace for some of their most striking creations. O'Callaghan is importing the cream of the lace crop to make this the latest of seasons. Chantilly lace in sapphire blue, yards and yards of it, is a dramatic part of this striking dance dress. It is a strapless ballerina model, the skirt stiffened with horsehair and finished with a lace flounce.

HINTS TO WOMEN

The most devastating thing you can do to a "dangerous" woman is to yawn and change the subject when her name is mentioned. To get rid of a bore who stays on and on, simply grab the floor and talk about yourself. That way you'll outbore him. If you want to flatter a man all you have to do is to listen attentively to everything he has to say without letting anything distract you. Never tell another woman how much or how little you paid for anything. If you are bragging, if she'll think her how little she'll lose you tell her how little she'll lose all respect for the purchase. Ask another woman to show you how to do something and you have made a friend. Never bring up the subject of an old quarrel unless you are ready for a new one.

Strictly Canadian by Claire Wallace

In olden days in Merrie England when a new baby arrived at a house, the parents announced the birth by covering the front door knocker with white kid. When the neighbours saw the decoration, they would troop around with gifts, often a piece of coral, for the new in-fant. In theory, the coral had two uses; one was to help teething and the other was to bring good luck. Just to be sure of the latter, a couple of bells were fastened to the coral to frighten away evil spirits.

The act of baptism—a term which comes from the Greek word meaning to bathe—implied the initiation of the new child into the Christian Church; washing with water signifies the purification of the child resulting from its introduction to the spiritual life.

In early days, baptism was postponed as late as possible so a man would have his main period of transgression behind him and face a future as free from sin as possible.

Sunday is the usual day of observance, either in church or at home. If the service is at home, a bowl to hold the water placed on a small table covered with a white cloth is appropriate as a font. If there is a silver bowl in the family, all the better, but it isn't necessary.

The baby is usually dressed in white for the baptism. It is a wise precaution to give the minister a small slip of paper with the baby's full name printed on it in good-size letters. He can hold it in the book while reading the service and then you will be sure the baby receives the name you intended.

If the christening takes place in the morning, whether it is at church or in the home, the godparents and other guests are invited for luncheon. If the christening is in the afternoon, tea is served.

Being invited to a christening, of course, means bringing a gift for the baby.

In choosing godparents, two godfathers and one godmother act for a boy and two godmothers and one godfather for a girl baby. However, one of each seems to be customary today. They may be relatives or friends of the parents but godparents should not be elderly because of the idea back of this custom is to give protection to the child; if anything happens to the parents while the child is very young, the godparents are supposed to fill the role of parents by proxy, to the best of their ability.

The godmother holds the child during the ceremony and godparents, of course, give the child a gift. In early times, in Europe, money, salt bread and cheese were the most popular gifts as it was the belief that these assured the child food and money throughout life. In these modern times a sterling silver mug or something of similar value, will be more appreciated. In Greece, the godparents furnish the clothes worn by the infant for the ceremony. Greek godparents are usually the couple who stood up at the wedding as best man and bridesmaid. (P.S. to godparents—you are supposed to get a present out of it, too; a little memento from the child's parents to show appreciation of your willingness to act).

Think well before you choose a name for your child—he has to live with it for the rest of his life unless he decides to change it and that requires time, money and the law on his side. Many people in Canada do change their names every year—more men than women.

On a broadcast about people with many first names, we discovered some Canadians with as many as thirteen! However, we couldn't find anyone to match Miss Pepper who was christened in Liverpool, England, in 1880, with the following alphabetical names—Anna Bertha Cecilia Diana Emily Fanny Gertrude Hypatia Inez Jane Kate Louise Maude Nora Ophelia (Pepper) Quince Rebecca Starkey Theresa Ulyssis Venus Winnifred Xenophon Yetty Zeno.

QUESTIONS—ETIQUETTE—ANSWERS

MARRIED NAME: Wallaceburg, Ontario; Mrs. S.A.R.: "If husband and wife are not living together, should the wife be addressed as 'Mrs. John X. Doe' or 'Mrs. Mary Doe'? There is quite an argument here regarding this. In my estimation, she is still 'Mrs. John X. Doe'."

ANSWER: "You are correct. Only a divorcee uses the form 'Mrs. Mary Doe'."

SHORT-CUT

One housewife who has little time for basting her roasts, is still able to get them as brown as toast, in no time at all, and she passes along the information. She dips a clean cloth in cooking oil or chicken fat and drapes it snugly over the meat before she shuts the oven door.

HARD TO IMAGINE

There's a synthetic fabric called "silon," invented in Czechoslovakia and exhibited for the first time at the Prague spring fair. Stockings made from it are said to be even better than nylons—the inventor's wife washed them daily for more than 400 days without a run.

THE TIERED HANDBAG

By ALICE ALDEN

We have deliberately highlighted this bag to stress how the handbag has changed its silhouette to conform to the vast change in the mode. Koret deftly drapes this handsome purse which is fashioned of dove soft, non-crockable suede. The tiered silhouette is set off by a single pleat at either side for added grace. Heavy gold plates the clasp and the hollow bands that hold the handle.

Hello Homemakers! Every year we are submerged with queries on canning vegetables. Our space is too limited to describe each of the various methods of processing. Sterilizing is successfully done in a pressure canner, therefore, we emphasize this method. Many homemakers have a pressure saucepan which will maintain the desired pressure, but only two or three jars can be processed at one time. As for the pressure canner, it will hold six to eight jars but you need a large electric element to provide even heat. A constant pressure is necessary so the canner cannot be set aside for even a minute. To cool the filled utensil by placing it in water or in a cold place is wrong. It should be left to cool gradually, otherwise, juices will be suctioned from the jars.

PRECAUTIONS FOR PROCESSING VEGETABLES

1. Buy a new stiff bottle brush, and rubber rings to fit your jars. Examine jars and lids for nicks and cracks as these cannot keep a perfect seal.
2. Scrub sealers thoroughly in hot soapy water. Rinse in chlorinated water and then in hot drinking water. (Two tablespoons of chloride of lime to about three quarts of water.)
3. Test jars for seal. Half fill with water, put proper sized rubber ring and lid in place, seal and invert. (This method does not apply to vacuum-type.) If the glass top rocks slightly on the jar try

 Danish Meat Ball Soup

6 c. of clear beef stock are needed for this soup. Or substitute 6 c. boiling water seasoned with 5 tsp. beef extract, or 6 bouillon cubes; or use canned consommé or beef bouillon diluted with water. The meat balls and dumplings must be cooked separately, for if boiled in the soup, it becomes cloudy.

Meat Balls for Soup. Purchase 1 lb. lean beef and order it chopped. At home put it through the chopper twice with 1 small peeled onion 1 c. beef suet or fat, and 2 tbsp. flour. Add 1 egg, 1/2 tsp. salt and 1/4 tsp. pepper. Then work in 1/2 c. warm milk. Beat and mix thoroughly. Form into small balls with a teaspoon. Have a frying pan half filled with boiling salted water. Drop in the meat balls and simmer 10 min. Brown the dumplings separately. Serve the soup in soup plates, with a garnish of 3 to 4 meat balls, and 2 or 3 puffy dumplings floating on top.

Danish Puffy Dumplings

Melt 4 tbsp. butter in a small sauce pan. Add 1/2 c. flour all at once; mix it thoroughly. To this add 1/2 c. boiling water; cook and stir until the mixture leaves the sides of the sauce pan. Let it cool; then beat 2 egg whites stiff and fold them in. Drop by teaspoonfuls into 2 qts. of boiling salted water; cover and steam 10 min. Lift out the balls with a perforated spoon, and use at once.

Apple Sauce Pudding

This requires 2 c. fine soft bread crumbs and 4 c. thick well sweetened home-made or canned apple sauce, flavored with cinnamon. To make, melt 3 tbsp. butter; add 2 c. bread crumbs, and slow-fry till slightly browned. Then add 2 tbsp. sugar and cook and stir until it begins to melt and caramelize. Next, in a buttered shallow qt.-sized dish, put a 1/2 in. layer of the crumbs. Top with a thick layer of apple sauce. Continue in this way until used. Make the top layer crumbs. Press the ingredients together with a spoon; cover, and let stand for at least 6 hrs. until the crumbs have absorbed the moisture. Unmold on a plate. Serve plain with top cream; or decorate with sweetened whipped cream and dots of bright red jelly.

GRANDMA'S TENANT

I have a little tenant
 Who's moved into my heart;
 There is no housing shortage
 In which he has a part.
 There will be no evictions,
 For he has lots of room;
 Since he has been my tenant
 The world has burst in bloom!
 My heart has windows looking
 Upon a future bright
 With hope, because my tenant
 Fills every path with light.
 I have a little tenant,
 All ivory and gold,
 Who's taken my heart over,
 Though he's just one day old!

PRINCESS ELIZABETH LEARNS RAILROADING

Making her first visit to a railroad plant since British railroads were nationalized under the Labor government program, Princess Elizabeth, heir to the throne, is shown at the workshop of the carriage and wagon works in Wolverton, Eng. She saw carriages in the making. The works superintendent, A. E. Peters, is explaining how fittings are finished.

MORE PUBLIC SCHOOL

steadily increased attendance in the public school, T. L. Dymond, chairman of the board, said that while the new teacher and additional classroom will alleviate matters this year, he felt that in the fall it may be possible to discuss the matter of finding more room, by building.

The meeting was adjourned until the call of the chair late in August.

late morning, spent the day enjoying the many attractions which the Park features, as well as conducting a program of sporting events.

Your Independent reporter and photographer Bob Aldrick spent some four hours with the picnicers and was impressed with the genial attitude of the people who daily work for one of the finest firms in the district. Bob was busy catching pictures of the various events, also of the many winners of contests, and this fine layout of pictures will appear in next week's edition of The Independent.

Over six thousand five cent tickets were distributed to all those attending the most successful picnic, these tickets being used for rides on the various fun-giving devices.

At the evening supper many valuable prizes were awarded, and a feature of these presentations was the presenting of beautiful awards to employees having many years service with the E. D. Smith Company.

Miss Jessie Ferguson was presented with a boudoir clock, in recognition of her fifteen years with the company. Miss J. Carpenter, with twenty years service was presented with a silver dressing room set, suitably inscribed.

Albert Swick with twenty-eight years service and Earl Butner with twenty-five years were both awarded gold pocket watches.

The Independent will carry a complete story of the picnic next week, complete with picture coverage.

"Fun and Fancy Free," latest Walt Disney musical feature is a combination of true fantasy and droll humour. The picture presents exciting adventures, whimsical escapades, animation marvels and musical delights. Disney has brought in Edgar Bergen and little Luana Patten as living players, plus Bergen's ventriloquist celebrities Charlie McCarthy and Mortimer Snerd, as well as his own Jimmy Cricket, to tie in the various fantastic diversions that make up the picture, which is about seventy-five percent a series of adventures by animated characters. Two closely allied fables are pictures "Mickey and the Beanstalk" is a completely Disneyfied variant of the legend, "Bongo" adapted from a Sinclair Lewis whimsical story, tells about a runaway circus bear who found love and perilous adventure in his native wilderness. Bergen narrates the "Beanstalk" legend, as visualized in animation for Charlie McCarthy, Mortimer Snerd and Luana Patten. Mickey Mouse, Donald Duck and Goofy are the active characters who defy the giant in rescuing a little musical damsel in distress. Dinah Shore does a similar narration for the "Bongo" exploit. Three new selections are sung by Dinah

Shore, and Anita Gordon, Billy Gilbert and Cliff Edwards will contribute to make "Fun and Fancy Free" a really enjoyable gambol, whilst Technicolor enhances the beauty. The film is playing at the Roxy, Grimsby, on Friday and Saturday, July 16th and 17th.

The 90 cent return fare between Grimsby and Hamilton has been raised to $1. Single fare between Grimsby and the Beach is now 15 cents with zone tickets being sold on a basis of 25 cents return fare.

Samuel John Smith, who had lived in North Grimsby nearly all his life, died Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Robert Watt, 125 Stirling Street, Hamilton. Mr. Smith, who was born in Ancaster 79 years ago, was a member of Grace United Church.

For some years he had been weed inspector in North Grimsby. He is survived by his wife, the former Clara Swazie; a daughter, Mrs. Watt; two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Smuck, of Glanford, and Mrs. Liza Book, of Detroit; two brothers, Alex of Mount Hope, and James, of Ancaster; and seven grandchildren.

Stiff Round Town

By GORD MCGREGOR

Last Thursday night William Demphe of Crescent Avenue, Beamsville received one hundred and ten dollars for his photograph at the weekly session of the Beam Theatre's Photo-Nite. Mr. Demphe's name was called two weeks ago, and due to a mistake in the spelling of his name, it took a little while to get matters clarified. Come to think of it, I believe the name is spelled incorrectly in this column. But for a hundred and ten pieces of lettuce—who should worry. Not Mr. . . . here we go again —Demphe.

Sports Flash. The Peach Kings won a ball game, defeating Mammy's Bread twenty-seven to ten. Eureka! The Mammy's team is not a girl's team as was rumoured around town.

Patience and Fortitude. It required a lot of both if you happened to find yourself driving across the notorious Burlington Beach sandstrip on a Sunday afternoon. By actually clocking the trip we found that it required thirty-two minutes to get through the maze of traffic. Add to this a dash of crazy cyclists, a jigger of children dashing across in front of you, plus an eye-full of females in abbreviated bathingsuits, and you have quite a trip.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday the people of Grimsby and district have the opportunity to say thanks to the Grimsby Lions Club for all the fine work they have done for the betterment of this community. Yes, the ferris wheel will roll, the booths will be thronged with citizens having a great night at the Lions Carnival. This is the chance for you and you to assist the Lions in raising funds for still more projects which will serve us all in Grimsby.

S'funny how memories linger on. Having visited a number of golf courses throughout this section of Southern Ontario, it is surprising how many people ask about the former Deer Park Golf Club at the Bench. Without a doubt, it was one of the best nine hole courses in Ontario, and its magnificent Club House was without parallel anywhere, regret is always expressed that the course is no more.

Golfing has boomed tremendously in the past few years, and right now we would venture to say that there are fifty per cent more golfers right in this area now than when the Deer Park Course was operating. Wonder if Grimsby will ever have another golf course? Could be.

GOVERNMENT RECORD

An official conducting a Government quiz called on Mrs. Jones and asked her what she did with herself.

"I keep the house clean, cook the meals, wash the dishes, do the laundry, mend the clothes and queue for food," she replied. The official thanked her and made an entry in his notepook: "Mrs. Jones—housewife—no occupation."

MUNICIPAL BUILDING FLAG AT HALF MAST

Out of respect for the late Councillor Wm. Mitchell, the flag on the Municipal grounds was flown at half mast on Monday.

Regular township council meeting, scheduled for Saturday afternoon last was ordered adjourned to a later date by Reeve Malcolm S. Nelles.

The death of Councillor Mitchell means that Township Clerk Gordon McCallie will have to call a nomination meeting of the ratepayers to fill the vacant council seat. If more than one ratepayer qualifies for the office an election will then have to be held.

REQUIRES 2000 NAMES FOR MAIL DELIVERY

(Burlington Gazette)

Speaking at a recent Chamber of Commerce dinner, Hughes Cleaver, M.P., stated that mail delivery for Burlington would come just as soon as the required number of calls were in view. To secure house to house delivery a municipality must have within its boundaries 2000 calls for the postman. Burlington was well over the 1500 mark, and Mr. Cleaver predicted that with the continued expansion and fast growth the municipality was now enjoying it would not be very long before he could make a move to secure for Burlington house to house delivery.

DRINK AND THE WOMAN

Ray Milland, who learned all about alcoholism when he starred in "The Lost Weekend," set down some comments on drinking—according to sex: "Let awcman take one drink—a hairpin falls out . . . She takes another drink—down comes a lock of hair. . . . As she keeps on drinking there is a gradual disintegration. Linetic under the nose or on the teeth. She forgets to sit down gracefully. Finally—she looks a downright mess."

Don't forget the Lions Carnival this weekend.

The regular monthly meeting will be held on July 21 at 8 p.m. Club House opens at 7 p.m.

Saturday, July 17th. Picnic leaves LePage and Stuart's Garage at 1.15 sharp. Don't forget, children of all veterans and parents are invited.

The highlight in gifts this week is a chair, presented by Comrade Lt. Colonel "Andy" Taylor of Green Trees. The chair made of Texan Shorthorn horns is over 100 years old. It was shown at the Exhibition at Louisville, Kentucky over fifty years ago. It's comfortable enough to snooze in, and is going to be used as the President's chair.

Musically we are all complete. Mrs. G. Mould has kindly donated a music stool.

SPORTSAITON HAS 17 STRIKEOUTS TO WIN OVER ST. CATHARINES

Working behind the solid pitching of Doug Aiton, Grimsby Beach Buds handed the St. Catharines TP's an eight to seven reverse before a good crowd at the Public School diamond on Tuesday night. It was the second win for the locals in five starts, with plenty of improvement evident over early performances.

TP's opened up with a run in the top half of the first inning, and the Buds evened the count, when Metcalfe scored on Schwab's bingle. Grimsby's big inning came in the third when four runs crossed the plate from five hits. Two St. Catharines errors proved costly as the Buds scampared around the circuit on hits by Mogg, Metcalfe and McConnell.

Blanked in the fourth and fifth, the Buds came back in the sixth for three runs from one hit, a walk and two errors. The Buds scoring ended there, and the TP's rallied in the eighth, loading the bases. Aiton walked two, and gave up a hit, before working himself out of a hole and striking out two TP batters. Aiton got into difficulties again in the ninth as St. Kitts loaded the bases, and with the hit and run working for them nicely, four runs crossed the plate before the side was retired.

Doug Aiton pitched one of his better efforts against the St. Catharines "A" entry, being credited with seventeen strikeouts. Redman on the mound for TP's registered eight outs via the strikeout route. The win brought Grimsby out of the cellar, two points ahead of Thorold. It was the second defeat for St. Catharines.

The Buds and Thorold will play a home and home series in the near future, the winner going on against either Fort Erie or Port Colborne.

SOFTBALLING IN HOT WEATHER

Stoney Creek, July 7th — Stoney Creek's powerhouse continued on their merry way in the Fruit Belt schedule, downing Winona by a seventeen to two score. The Creekers have won ten of their twelve starts, and are in a first place tie with Smithville.

Smithville, July 8th — With a surprising show of power, and a will to win the Peach Kings stepped into Smithville on Thursday night, and in four innings knocked John Belcot off the mound. Leading by a three to one count going into the fifth, the Kings ran up against three tough breaks, and Smithville came through with five runs, sufficient to win the tilt. Final score was seven to three.

The Kings found themselves with only eight men and a boy, for it was necessary to use young Cliff Schwab in centre field. Cliff astounded the fans and pleased his old man aplenty by hitting safely three out of four trips to the plate.

Guy Winters hurled a good game for the Kings while Belcot was colorless, and had to be replaced by Jack Pennell. Pennell, another sidearm artist held the Kings to two scattered hits.

Giving credit where it is due, the Kings who are deep in the league cellar, never give up trying, and have plenty of spirit. There was little doubt but what they played better ball than Smithville over the entire route, but the breaks went against them heavily in the climatic fifth inning.

Batteries: Smithville — Belcot, Pennell and Cook; Peach Kings — Winters and Schwab.
Umpires — Merritt and McBride.

Grimsby July 9th — Grimsby's two teams tangled at the Public School grounds on Friday night, with the Merchants coming out on top by a seventeen to eight count. The game was featured by five home runs, three off the bat of Bouk, Merchant pitcher. Siblock and Henderson hit four-baggers for the Kings.

Merchant batters touched Winters for sixteen hits, scoring four runs in the first, third, fourth and seventh, and a single in the second. Winters walked three and struck out three.

Bouk with ten strike outs, was touched for eight hits, allowed three walks, but was never in trouble in the nine inning contest.

Both teams played with a revamped line-up, the Merchants were without the services of either of their catchers, Smith and Kanaki, and Bob Neale took over this chore. Peach Kings used young Cliff Schwab at short, and the kid more than held his own.

Merchants with thirteen games under their belt, have won eight and lost five, and are still four points behind the second place Stoney Creek outfit.

Batteries: Merchants — Bouk and Neale. Peach Kings — Winters and Schwab.

Merchants — 17 runs, 16 hits, 5 errors.
Peach Kings — 8 runs, 8 hits, 3 errors.

Stoney Creek July 9th — Pud Reid's Beamsville nine found playing under the arcs a trifle tough and were swamped by Niagara Food by a score of seventeen to three. Errors aplenty aided the pitching cause of Lefty Kaye. Geddes and McCallister were both knocked from the mound for Beamsville. Dutch Konkle finishing the game.

Winona July 9th — In one of the best games seen in Winona this season, Tom Collins' crew went down to defeat at the hands of

PEACH KINGS ARE NOT DEAD THEY ARE JUST DYING

(By DON RICHES, Press Agent, Peach Kings Ball Club)

Well they say the "Peach Kings never die," but at the present time they are pretty darn sick. At least that's what we've been told. However we know different; we know the real story of the failure of the beloved Peach Kings to win games. Now can be told the real reason why Doc Schwab's Peach Kings haven't won a ball game... yet! Why? The other team always get more runs.

Dismissing that somewhat corny excuse and speaking seriously about the team, we find that the Kings, lose though they may, are always in there fighting; they are not giving up the ghost. It is true they perhaps have not got the pitching and hitting strength of some of their opponents but also the P.K.s have had a whole lot of hard luck. They have lost ninety per cent of their games through one terrible inning when they went momentarily to pieces. The statistics show this. The Kings score runs, and we might add, have never been shut out.

One of these weeks the P.K.s are going to win, not just one game, but a whole string of games. They can't go on like they're going. They have to get better. And it's going to be a joyful day for the Grimsby supporters, and the team, when they do.

This Friday they play at Niagara Food Products, and on Monday here in Grimsby against Beamsville. They are the only team the Peach Kings have not lost to more than once—they tied one game 7-7.

So, perhaps, and we think they will, the Kings will at last come through. Their luck has to change. Beamsville is the logical team to beat.

So, fans, let's give the battered P.K.'s your support. Maybe if the boys heard a few cheers they would do better.

Game time: Monday, 7 p.m.
Probable Peach King line-up: Schwab, c; Winters, p; Henderson, 1b; Zimmerman, 2b; Siblock, 3b; C. Schwab, ss; Riches, lf; Demerling, cf; M. Smith, rf.

A GREAT WORK

petitive sport. The Red Cross is, however, definitely interested in personal safety in and on the water, and endorses the activities of recognized organizations engaged in such work.

This then is the basic reason why the Red Cross has opened up schools for the training of instructors, whose task it will be then to teach our youth not only how to swim and be at home in the water, but also many rules pertaining to safety while in or on the water. The instruction is a free service offered by the Red Cross.

To one of these schools, held early this summer in Welland, went seven local girls, all interested in the aquatic sport, but also keenly interested in being capable of showing the young girls and boys of the Grimsby area how to swim—and be safe.

Headed by Miss Ruth Powell, who this summer enters her third year as a swimming instructor in this area, six other girls, Joyce Dillon, Janice Cornwall, Jewell De-laPlante, Gail Morton, Ruth Clark and Helen Burns attended and successfully passed the rigid tests at Welland and now become qualified instructors.

The instructing of kiddies had its start in Grimsby three years ago, when around thirty-five enrolled, thirty of whom passed their tests. The second year saw a big jump in the enrolment, with over two hundred taking instruction at some time during the summer. This year over two hundred have enrolled already, and Miss Powell estimates that by the end of August between four and five hundred boys and girls will have received instruction in swimming and water safety.

It is a great credit to the organizations who have backed the idea since its formation, and to the instructors who daily conduct their swimming classes, that the Red Cross rates the Grimsby Class as one of the best in the Province, having made the most progress due largely to being well organized and well supported by the people.

Assisting the Red Cross in this Grimsby Swimming Class is the Cottagers' Association, the Women's Improvement Society, the Recreational Club, and the Grimsby Lions Club.

As supervisor, Ruth Powell, this year a graduate of Grimsby High, is extremely capable not only as an instructor, but also in the successful administration of the Swimming class. Holder of the Silver Medal, issued by the Royal Life Saving Society, Ruth Powell is justly proud of the unblemished record of her classes.

It often takes more than a complete knowledge of swimming and safety precautions to take a youngster who perhaps is actually frightened of the water, and in a few short weeks have that same boy or girl, not only in the water and enjoying every moment of it, but also well on the way to becoming a competent swimmer. The instructor's job requires considerable psychology.

When we interviewed Miss Powell the afternoon class was just getting under way. This was the "Nelles Beach Class" now taking their instruction at Grimsby Beach due to unfavorable water conditions at the Nelles location. We saw youngsters of the Intermediate group being coached by the assistant instructors, learning such important techniques as treading water or floating in one place. Such an item as this is most important, when one considers that if you are forced to swim a considerable distance and becoming tired, one can rest and recover by knowing how to float with as little effort as possible. This is but one phase of the training the youngsters are receiving daily at the Beach.

There are three groups, the Junior, Intermediate and Senior, and successful candidates receive suitable crests from the Red Cross upon passing either of the tests. Two test days are held, one in July and the second in August. Tests are passed by an outside examiner, usually sent from Red Cross Headquarters, or by another qualified examiner working at another beach.

Classes usually last about an hour. During this time practical knowledge is demonstrated on land, then put into practice in the water. After this a class in water safety is held.

Miss Powell said that any boy or girl who for some reason or other cannot attend classes, is still invited to take any of the tests when Test Day comes along. The instruction in the art of swimming is so popular that many inquiries have been made by adults, wishing to take instruction. And it is quite possible that an adult class may be started in the near future.

To pass the Senior Test a candidate is expected to be capable of carrying out the following measures:

"Swim 100 yards breast or side stroke. Swim 100 yards back crawl or back stroke. Swim 100 yards crawl or trudgen, and three hundred yards continuous swimming. 25 yards on back, using only arms, another 50 yards on back, using only the legs. Then seventy five yards continuous swimming.

Then to complete the senior test a candidate must perform a surface dive and fifteen feet under water, swim. A shallow and a running dive, then tread or float in place for ten minutes. Then after answering questions on water safety, you may be considered as a Senior swimmer.

Besides keeping rescue equipment on hand at all times, a safety patrol has been formed. Their duties include keeping the beach clean watching for broken glass, discouraging the children from pushing and splashing in a manner that may be injurious. The safety patrol also gives assistance to the life guards, especially on crowded days.

Miss Powell informed us that one of her big problems at present is transportation. Primarily a Grimsby project, many Grimsby children are unable to get down to the Beach daily to attend the classes. If there are any parents or interested persons who may be able to assist in forming a car-pool, we know that Miss Powell would appreciate it very much if you would contact her at 279-R, Grimsby.

Coming up in the near future is a big swimming meet, with all sorts of relay races, diving competition, and in fact all types of water competitions. Several championship swimmers and divers will be at the Beach to help make the meet a successful one. Included will be Mrs. Lillian McKellar, now of London, and formerly of New Zealand. Mrs. McKellar is the holder of the ladies distance swimming title, and besides giving demonstrations, she will conduct the meet.

This then is what is being done for the youngsters that daily swarm to the cooling waters of Lake Ontario. Just how much benefit will be reaped from the swimming classes will probably never be known. But without a doubt some boy or girl who is now receiving expert instruction in the art of swimming, and garnering a good knowledge of water safety will perhaps some day save either their own life or the life of someone else, through the instruction that they are now receiving. This motto then is an ideal closing thought—For safety, for health, for fun, learn to swim the right way.

DEAN OF MUNICIPAL

with all the recorded facts that I have at hand it is an impossibility to chronicle here all the things that "Bill" Mitchell did for Grimsby and the township.

During the First War years he decided to go fruit farming and purchased the old Jasper Smith property on Number 8 highway west, the present Mitchell home, but he could not keep out of municipal affairs as he honestly believed that any effort he put forth was for the benefit of the people. His people, as he often called them. As a result of this he was Reeve of North Grimsby for five straight years—1919-20-21-22-23 and then retired from office until 1931 when he again entered the municipal field as a Councillor with the result that in 1932 he was Deputy-Reeve. Again he retired but came back in 1937 as a Councillor and held that position continuously, with honour to himself and his council until the day of his death. He attended his last council meeting the beginning of May.

A liberal candidate in the Provincial election in 1911 he was active in the interests of that party until he resigned the presidency of the Grimsby and North Grimsby Liberal association in protest over what he termed, "the Hepburn administration Spoils System."

Always active in the interests of fruit growers, he was connected with different growers' organizations and, when the Queen Elizabeth Way was under construction through the township, he acted as agent of landowners whose property was being taken over by the government for the new road.

In his mercantile life he had a long and varied career. After leaving the services of the late E. J. Palmer, where he was one of the first operators of the first telephone in Grimsby he went into the grocery business. Leaving that business he became local agent for the Canadian Express Company, the forerunner of the present Canadian National Express Co., and held that position for many years.

When the United Bank of Canada was formed and established branches throughout the province, Grimsby was selected. They adopted a policy of appointing local men as managers and William Mitchell was the manager of the bank in Grimsby. When the bank went defunct he then turned to fruit farming and for some time worked the old home farm in Saltfleet, eventually buying the present home property in North Grimsby.

Throughout all his long and brilliant mercantile and municipal career he only had one idea in mind and that was the development of the Grimsby district and for the benefit of the people.

Early in life he married Nellie Mihell, daughter of the late E. M. Mihell, first Village Clerk of Grimsby, and to them was born one daughter, Marjorie (Mrs. Gordon Metcalfe).

Funeral services were held from the Stonehouse Funeral Home on Monday afternoon and were largely attended by municipal officials, businessmen and fruit growers from throughout the whole district.

The great profusion of floral tributes attested to the very high esteem in which the deceased had been held by people in all walks of life.

Rev. A. Leonard Griffith of Trinity United church conducted the services at the Funeral Home and graveside.

Honorary pallbearers were members of North Grimsby Township council and ex-Wardens of Lincoln County Council.

Active casket bearers were three grandsons, William, Arthur and Edwin Metcalfe; Robert O. Smith, Cecil M. Bonham and John Morris.

Interment was in Queen's Lawn cemetery.

and for prompt payment. Previous rate, based on a sliding scale, was 90 cents per 1,000 for the first 5,000 cubic feet, 80 cents for the second 5,000 and 65 cents per 1,000 for all in excess of 10,000 feet for prompt payment.

A company representative told council that operating costs over the past 10 years had increased very gently and an increase in revenue was necessary if present operations were to be continued.

Since 1929 operating costs have increased 60 per cent and rentals 100 per cent. In 1929 the company were operating 20 wells, today they have 92 wells in production.

Standing with bowed heads council members observed a minute's silence in tribute to William Mitchell, a former council head, who died yesterday after a lengthy municipal career. "He was a wise councillor, a valued councillor, always fighting for what he believed was right, and he was never vanquished," Mayor Henry Bull said. A motion of sympathy to Mr. Mitchell's family was also passed.

Spencer Merritt asked Mayor Bull if anything further had been done about the matter of percentages on assessment for the new construction work in the Aitchison survey. His Worship told Mr. Merritt that nothing would be done about the matter "at this meeting." At this point Councillor Bonham broke in on the Mayor and he was not able to continue his explanation to Mr. Merritt, who after a few moments disgustedly walked out of the meeting.

Later in the evening Clerk Bourne notified council that upon legal advice the council would have to rescind the motion passed on June 25th settling the assessment percentages on new construction work at 75 per cent. As the law calls for an affirmative against the property owner and 25 per cent against the corporation. vote of three-quarters of the members, or seven members, the motion was invalid as only six members voted for it.

Mr. Bourne also stated that under the law the percentages would have to be set for each new construction job and not under a blanket rating.

Several routine matters were dealt with by council but also several matters of importance had to be carried over to a future meeting.

ANAEMIA ..

(By Dr. D. V. Curry, M. O. H. Lincoln County Health Unit)

To-day we would like to tell you about a very common complaint which sometimes occurs in children but more frequently in adults, and is called anaemia. Usually it is impossible to tell with any degree of certainty by merely looking at him that a person is or is not anaemic. Some test of the blood must be used by a physician to determine whether or not a patient has this condition. Anaemia may occur from excessive bleeding, by the destruction of blood cells, or by the failure of the blood-producing organs to do their work properly. The red corpuscles carry the red colour matter to the blood, and have the power of taking up or giving off oxygen.

The common symptom of anaemia is shortness of breath due to the fact that the blood in these persons carries a smaller amount of oxygen than normal blood. Where more oxygen is necessary such as going upstairs or climbing a hill, shortness of breath becomes more marked, the heart beats faster, there is a paleness of the skin and lips with a tendency towards giddiness and faintness.

There are two main types of anaemia, primary and secondary. In the latter there is a shortage of iron in the blood but some other disease may be present which is causing this deficiency. A defective food supply in which there is not enough fruit and green vegetables containing iron will cause secondary anaemia. Other diseases such as lead poisoning, Bright's Disease or jaundice may also cause this type of anaemia. The most frequent cause of secondary anaemia is loss of blood resulting from accidents, ruptured stomach ulcer, or other such conditions. The rapid removal of one-third of the total amount of blood usually results in death unless it is at least partially replaced at once. Over a period of time two-thirds of the original blood volume may be slowly lost without causing death. The replacing of the blood is undertaken either by direct transfusion of blood from one person to another or by the administration into the blood stream of a blood substitute, such as a normal salt solution.

Sometimes secondary anaemia is caused by interference with the normal transportation of new blood cells from the bone marrow to the circulating blood. In this form the red cells are reduced proportionately while the white cells in the blood are increased in number. Here there is usually an underlying disease such as cancer, tuberculosis or syphilis, and the treatment of the underlying cause will usually clear up the anaemia.

Secondary anaemia is fairly common among young female adults, usually due to lack of iron in the food or lack of sunshine. It is often found during pregnancy where it is due to a shortage of the proper food elements.

The most important primary anaemia is called pernicious anaemia, which is a serious, progressive disease. Besides the anaemia there are characteristic changes in the blood, the blood-forming organs, the central nervous system, and the digestive tract. The cause of this disease is unknown but usually occurs between the ages of forty and sixty years. Pernicious anaemia is slow and insidious. The patient usually gives a history of weakness and often is unable to fix a date when the symptoms were first noticed. With this feeling of weakness and increased fatigue there is a yellowish lemon colour of the skin, nausea, vomiting and diarrhoea. Sometimes the patient complains of a sore tongue as well as numbness or tingling in the arms and legs. There is usually loss of weight, the tongue is red, glazed and frequently sore. Laboratory tests show a marked lack of acid in the stomach. The diagnosis, however, can only be made by a microscopic examination of the blood. The number of red cells and the haemoglobin, which gives the red colour to the blood, are reduced as are also the white cells in the blood. A marked feature of this anaemia is that the haemoglobin although reduced is, relatively speaking, higher than the red count, whereas in secondary anaemia the haemoglobin is reduced to the same extent.

The treatment of this condition depends on the type of anaemia, and the primary cause. In secondary anaemia the underlying disease must be treated, then iron must be administered to build up the reduced haemoglobin. This along with transfusion in cases where anaemia results from excessive bleeding constitutes the general principles in the treatment of secondary anaemia.

The treatment of pernicious anaemia is by liver extract, and must be kept up as long as the blood picture is abnormal. The extract should always be given by a physician and he will determine how often it should be used. Only within the past few years has the prospect of treatment of pernicious anaemia been good, and medical science has certainly made a great difference in the outlook of these cases.

Modern Harvesters' Excursion to Help Canadian Farmers

A New Era in Harvesting Started by Massey-Harris Combines

Trainloads of Massey-Harris combines rolling across the country to the grain farming areas are a common sight nowadays. They have replaced the once familiar annual harvesters' excursions which brought thousands of harvest hands to the prairies.

Modern mechanical harvesters like the Massey-Harris self-propelled combines, have brought many advantages to grain growers. With them, crops can be harvested with the minimum of manual labor, a great money-saving feature when, in times like these, experienced farm help is in short supply and wage rates are high.

Massey-Harris self-propelled combines speed up harvesting—one man can cut and thresh 50 acres and upwards in a day. Operating costs are low too with a self-propelled—one motor supplies power to propel and operate the machine. There is no expense for twine or staking. And the combine has done away with the work, worry and expense of threshing time.

The demand for combines indicates the trend towards modern mechanical harvesting. From factories with capacity increased greatly, more and more Massey-Harris combines are being built to help Canadian farmers harvest their crops easier, quicker and at less cost.

LATE SPORT GIRL'S SOFTBALL

In girls' softball, the Beach registered two wins during the last week, taking Fulton 40 to 17, and Caistorville by a 21 to 19 count. The girls are really creating a sensation down at the Beach, and the experts are calling on their young ladies to win out over any opposition that they may run up against.

Bill Sterling, sports conscious owner of the Pittsburgh Water Heater plant at the Beach, has again come through with a fine gesture, and the girls really pleased beyond words to have been outfitted in smart red and white sweaters through the efforts of Mr. Sterling.

To-night the Beach take on the Grimsby team, the game to be played in Grimsby. The Grimsby team, sponsored by the Young People's Group of the Ukrainian Orthodox are prepared to give the Beach girls plenty of competition, and it should be a good game for the fans from Grimsby and the Beach to witness.

The Grimsby team rung up a terrific 42 to 17 victory over the Tapletown team on Tuesday night and are confident they can down the powerful Beach Club.
